

Bite Me

Abigail Horton

Digital painting, Procreate

This piece is a study of the lips, one of the most vulnerable and expressive parts of the body. Using texture, color, and varied expression, the goal of this piece was to characterize the individual lips despite them all being the same object.

