

Summer Wanderlust

Anna Rahn

Photography

A floral collage of plants collected from nature in Black Forest, CO (my hometown), South Bend, IN (the location of the college I transferred from), Boulder, CO, and the plants I grow indoors. Each location I've lived in has given me unique experiences I rely on to create a beautiful whole. This art piece is a representation of the value and beauty of diversity within my life experiences.

Included: orchid, daisy, forget-me-not, harebell, bleeding heart, pansy, catmint, and more
